Washington, July 11.—President Harding, in a proclamation issued at the White House late tonight, directed "all persons to refrain from all interference with the lawful efforts to maintain interstate transportation and the carrying of the United States mails."

In the proclamation, which was issued after a day in which continued reports had reached the post office department of interference by railroad strikers with mail trains, the President invited the cooperation of all public authorities, state and municipal, and the "aid of all good citizens" to uphold the laws and "facilitate those operations in safety which are essential to life and liberty and the security of property and our common public welfare."

The peaceful settlement of controversies between shop and employees and carriers, it was stated, "in accordance with law and due respect for the established agencies for such settlement, is essential to the security and well-being of our people."

The President took the position that men willing to maintain the operation of railroad trains in order to transport mail have "the same indisputable right to work that others have to decline to work."

President Harding was occupied throughout the evening with the preparation of the proclamation, delaying his dinner one hour in order to go over the first manuscript. It was not until 11:30 p. m. that the proclamation was made public about 10:40 p. m.

The text of the proclamation follows:

The President's Proclamation.
"A proclamation:
"Whereas, the United States Railroad Labor Board is an agency of the government, created by law and charged with the duty of adjusting disputes between railroad operators and employees engaged in interstate commerce; and

"Whereas, the United States Railroad Labor Board has recently handed down decisions, one affecting the wage of the shop craft employees, the other declaring the contract system of shop craft work with outside agencies to be contrary to the intent of the transportation act, and, therefore, that such practice must be discontinued; and

"Whereas, the shop craft employees have elected to discontinue their work rather than abide by the decision rendered, and certain operators have ignored the decision ordering the abandonment of the contract shop practice; and

"Whereas, the maintained operation of the railroads in interstate commerce and the transportation of United States mails has necessitated the employment of men who choose to accept employment under the terms of the decision and who have the same indisputable right to work that others have to decline to work; and

Call Conference to End Strike, Jewell's Reply

Chicago, July 11.—B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, declared tonight in reply to a proclamation issued by President Harding that the way to end the strike was to call a conference of the shop-crafts and the railway executives.

"I would not like to comment on the President's proclamation in detail until I have studied it closely," Mr. Jewell said, "but so far as unlawful acts and violence are concerned, I am ready to reply now."

"About 700,000 men are involved in this suspension of work. Our organization called attention to the possibility of other than strikers doing things which were unlawful, or which incited unlawful acts. We urged our membership to protect themselves from the possibilities of such conditions."

"The organizations welcome the rough and prompt investigation of any alleged illegal acts. As American citizens and taxpayers, it is disappointing to have to bear our part of the apparently unnecessary expense of maintaining armed forces called in presumably to reinforce the arm of the local city and county authorities."

"The organizations have at all times stated that they are willing to meet anyone authorized to make a proposal looking toward a settlement of the present situation, into which the railroad employees were forced as a last resort."

"The railroads apparently do not want to keep the strike within its present limitations. Other organizations do not want to become involved in our affairs, but the railroads seem to be trying to force them in by compelling them to do work which our crafts do and which these men never did."

DEVELOPMENTS IN GENERAL STRIKE SITUATION TUESDAY

Chicago, July 11.—With state troops and United States deputy marshals on guard in half a dozen states to avert violence and prevent interference with the movement of the mails or interstate commerce, leaders of the "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods and railway executives were hurrying to Chicago tonight to confer tomorrow on issues growing out of the shopmen's strike.

At Bloomington, Ill., where state troops have been guarding the Chicago & Alton railway shops, engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors, members of the four big brotherhoods, voted today not to enter the shops or yards as long as troops are stationed there.

Union officials ordered their men to keep the mail trains running, however. Clerks employed in the yards and at the depot walked out last night, refusing to work under protection of the troops.

The day passed quietly at the shops. Only two shots were fired, and both were traced to accidental discharge of sentinal's rifles.

The matter of working with guards and state troops on duty was expected to be one of the matters taken up at tomorrow's meeting.

Another issue to be discussed will be the alleged influence of the carriers that members of the "Big Four" do work regularly assigned to the crafts now on strike. The United States Railroad Labor board last week rendered an opinion that the members of one craft of workmen were not required to do the work of another union whose members were on strike unless they did so voluntarily. Members of the "Big Four" unions also have protested that rolling stock has not been kept in condition since the strike of shopmen, engineers claiming that engines with defective brakes, headlights and air equipment had been turned over to them.

Signalmen Will Not Strike.
A rift in the strike clouds appeared today with the announcement of D. W. Held, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, that his 14,000 men would not strike at this time but expected to open new negotiations with the individual carriers regarding their grievances. If unable to reach an agreement, the entire matter will be referred to the Railroad Labor board, he said.

Armed with three federal injunctions issued against rail strikers, United States Marshal Moore, of the Peoria office, went to Clinton, Ill., to serve the papers. The writs against the strikers from picketing, interference with the operation of trains, intimidation of employees, or any conspiracy to tie up transportation.

The shop crafts leaders assumed a more hopeful attitude today with receipt of advice that, all told, 13 railroads had made conciliatory expressions looking toward a settlement of the strike and that some already were conferring with the system federation committees.

No settlement will be made, however, except on a national basis, the union leaders insisted, adhering to their original attitude that the railroads deal with the six international shops unions as a whole.

Little actual violence was reported today, although troops and guards remained vigilant. Two hundred Kansas National Guardsmen were sent to Herington, Kansas, to guard the Rock Island shops, and officials of the Southern railway asked Governor Russell of Mississippi for troops at Hattiesburg to protect the property at the Mississippi Central shops.

Ask Protection in Tennessee.
Officials of the St. Louis-San Francisco announced that they had requested protection from the mayor of Memphis and the governor of Tennessee because their employees at the Georgetown shops had been intimidated by the strikers and the situation was so serious that they were compelled to bring the workmen to and from the shops in automobiles.

All was quiet at Clinton, Ill., where state troops have been stationed since Saturday. Additional deputy marshals were sworn in here to protect the Chicago & Northwestern shop employees and two companies of

'BIG FOUR' TO MEET MANAGERS

Chicago Conference Today Will Consider Matters Pertaining to Present Strike

MANY PROTESTS

Train Service Men Allege They Are Asked to Do Work Usually Done by Shopmen

(By the Associated Press.)

Cleveland, Ohio, July 11.—The four chief executives of the Big Four transportation brotherhoods will meet several railroad managers in Chicago tomorrow to confer regarding protests of brotherhood members on the alleged action of railroad managers in asking them to do work usually done by striking shopmen, and other matters pertaining to the shopmen's strike.

The brotherhood chiefs requested T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, to call a conference of the railroad managers to discuss with the union chiefs questions of working agreements arising since the beginning of the shopmen's strike and today received notice that the meeting will be held in Chicago tomorrow morning.

Mr. Cuyler is understood to have requested the regional directors of the railroad managers to have representatives of many of the large railroads in the country attend the conference.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, left here tonight to attend the conference.

L. E. Shepard, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, will also be present and T. E. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, may attend.

The brotherhood chiefs have received many complaints from their membership regarding working conditions on railroads since the inauguration of the shopmen's strike, and these reports will be thoroughly discussed with the managers at tomorrow's meeting.

Mr. Stone has received reports from engineers that they have been asked to take out engines with air brakes not in proper order, defective flues, broken water glasses, bad headlights and other deficiencies. Protests have been filed by the brotherhood chiefs with the Interstate Commerce commission against these conditions.

Commerce Commission Appealed To.
New York, July 11.—Urging that "the public as well as the workers have a right to know whether it costs more to attempt to break a strike by economic force than to settle it at the start by collective bargaining," the Interstate Commerce commission tonight was asked to order the carriers to publish their strike costs. In a telegram sent by John J. Dowd, New York district chairman of the striking shop crafts men.

"The railroad companies in the district have already spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in fees to detectives and employment agencies to recruit strikebreakers during the past ten days," the telegram said. "They have spent hundreds of thousands more in feeding and housing such men as they could get, in paying them bonuses, and buying them clothes and tobacco."

Declaring that it was reported that New York Central workers replacing strikers were being paid $12 a day, "and bed and board free," Mr. Dowd added:

"All this is absolutely useless expense for which the public will pay in the end."

The commission is asked to order a special accounting of the railroads' strike expenses and to publish the result from week to week.

Those drowned were Albe Leblanc of Proleux, Que., Vonne Leblanc of St. Grégoire, Pup-Henri Lambert of St. Grégoire and Allice Leblanc of St. Leonard. Their bodies were recovered.

SIGNALMEN STICK

Will Endeavor to Adjust Wages
With Several Roads—Interruption of Mails Reported

Washington, July 11.—Leaders of the Mine Workers' Union and operators of anthracite and bituminous mines who got President Harding's offer of arbitration yesterday as the government solution of the suspension of operations in union fields were still in the throes of decision today over accepting or rejecting.

In spite of a careful guarding of statements, there was a degree of dissatisfaction with the terms of the President's offer on both sides, and some question as to the eventual outcome. The union officials have definitely postponed their decision problem until Saturday when the general policy committee will meet, but the employers had committees actually at work in Washington.

The government's first concern in the northwestern coal supply, it was indicated, the rail-and-water route over the Great Lakes forming the transportation of coal in the summer or not at all. Work resumption within two weeks, however, it was indicated, would solve this, but if not, priority orders through the I. C. C. might be used to direct shipments of non-union coal preferentially to the territory concerned.

Mine operators found most difficulty in accepting the sections of the President's arbitration offer which would continue the war time mining wage scales for what they regard as an indefinite period.

It is the union view that the wage scale fight under the arbitration offer is more or less wrong. The net result was to give both elements in the conference considerable room for thinking.

Secretary Hoover said the larger non-union operators had been abiding by the price agreements faithfully but the smaller operators were setting entirely out of hand and in some places were raising prices as much as 50 cents each week.

He asserted, had proved too much for the smaller non-union operators and while the larger operators are holding prices at the mine to from $2.90 to $3.00, although being offered as high as $4 for a ton, smaller operators are charging as high as $3.75 a ton and in the western Kentucky and Pennsylvania fields as high as $5 or $6 a ton.

The arrangements made with the non-union operators, Mr. Hoover said, were purely voluntary agreements and representatives of their association will be called to Washington to see if they can not hold the smaller operators in line, or whether the government will have to take some action to protect the public.

Asked as to the means the government had in mind, Mr. Hoover said: "Moral suasion, that's all I've got. But it's been some time to hold the situation for more than six weeks."

MRS. STOKES WINS FIGHT FOR DOWER

Will Have Interest of About Two and a Half Million in Ex-Husband's Property

New York, July 11.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes today won her fight to have her dower rights to property valued at more than $6,000,000 restored when Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan handed down a decision in the suit she had brought against her husband, W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel man and real estate operator.

Mrs. Stokes alleged that she had signed away her dower rights to the property under a misapprehension that it was necessary for her to do so. The defendant claimed that she had signed over her dower rights as part of an ante-nuptial pact.

Mrs. Stokes, who last fall secured a separation from her husband and $18,000 a year temporary alimony, will have an interest amounting to about $2,500,000 in the Stokes property, it was said, if Justice Cohalan's decision is upheld by the higher court to which appeal will be taken.

JERSEY YOUTH ON TRIAL FOR SCHOOLGIRL'S DEATH

Morrisstown, N. J., July 11.—The case of the prosecution in the trial of Francis Kluxen, III, 15, for the murder of Janet Lawrence, Madison schoolgirl, received a blow today when Victor Anser, 23, Madison, challenged the testimony which he gave before the grand jury.

Anser testified that on the October night of last year when the Lawrence girl's body was found in Kluxen's woods, he heard someone at the pump, where the state contends the defendant went after the murder, wash bloodstains from his clothing. Before the grand jury, he said he did not know how long the persons were at the pump. At the trial today he said "long enough to get a drink."

"I am telling the truth now," the witness replied.

Anser was still on the witness stand when the trial was adjourned until tomorrow.

DR. YARROW, ARMENIAN RELIEF HEAD, SAILS

(By the Associated Press.)
Constantinople, July 11.—Dr. Ernest Yarrow of Binghamton, N. Y., director of the American relief in Armenia during the past twelve years, sailed for New York today. Prior to his departure, he declared that the most serious effects of the Russian famine will begin to show themselves during the next year. All parts of Russia, including Armenia, he said, are suffering from "starvation momentum," which makes it difficult to check or offset the effects of long-continued food shortages.

CROSSING SEA ALL ALONE ISN'T FUN

New York Yachtsman Proposes That Companion Be Taken Along in Proposed Ketch Race

New York, July 11.—William Washburn Nutting, commodore of the Cruising Club of America, who last night challenged the Duke of Leinster to a single-handed trans-Atlantic ketch race, said today that sailing the ocean all by one's self isn't a terribly risky thing to do. It's more of a test of one's ability to keep from being bored to death than any other quality, he declared.

Cable dispatches have quoted the duke as saying that he would leave England for America in a 12-ton ketch. Mr. Nutting, upon reading this, challenged him to make a race of it, but in view of the boredom sure to come to a solitary mariner at sea, suggested that each of them take along one companion. Mr. Nutting also suggested that it would be advisable to run such a race with the prevailing weather, that is, from America to England, rather than to the westward.

It may be that each contestant will be permitted to install an auxiliary motor with a limited amount of fuel, it was said today.

This is the first time any such contest has been in prospect, although several sailors have successfully traversed the Atlantic alone. Howard Blackburn of Gloucester, Mass., did it twice; in 1899 he sailed the 30-foot sloop Great Western single-handed from his own Gloucester to Gloucester, England, in 62 days. Two years later, with the 35-foot sloop Great Britain, he sailed from Gloucester to Lisbon, Portugal, in 39 days. During the '90s, Captain Joshua Slocum sailed all the way around the world by himself, devoting several years to the voyage.

ELKS URGED TO BECOME ATHLETIC

Proposal That Every Lodge
Arrange Necessary Field Is Enthusiastically Received

Atlantic City, July 11.—A plan providing that each lodge of Elks in the country engage in athletic activities and acquire the necessary property for an athletic field was received enthusiastically today by the thousands of delegates to the annual meeting of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The proposal was referred to a new committee of the order.

Murray Hulbert, past exalted ruler of New York lodge No. 1, who presented the plan in behalf of the New York state Elks, said the antierd herd should engage in athletics, as well as patriotic exercises, "for the development of the bodies and minds, not only of useful Elks but the future citizens of the United States, and thus quicken the spirit of American patriotism and create and preserve the very best citizenry in the world."

An invitation was received from Mayor Curley of Boston to hold next year's reunion in that city. Decision in the matter will be reached tomorrow. It was said in administration circles tonight that the invitation probably would be accepted.

J. Edgar Masters, of Charleport, Pa., was elected grand exalted ruler. According to the report of the grand secretary, Fred Robinson, charitable work done since 1889 amounted to $13,730,433.20.

New Children's Courts May Have Women Judges

Albany, July 11.—Women judges of children's courts, and not necessarily women with legal training, were made possible by a ruling of Attorney General Charles D. Newton, made today, in which the attorney general found that the office was open to candidates "who are over 21, American citizens and residents of the state and county, as required generally of candidates for county office."

The opinion was given to the conference of county judges and attorneys, here today, which is planning the establishment of these new courts, the purpose of which is to safeguard juvenile delinquents and youthful offenders from the stigma which attaches to the trial in the ordinary criminal tribunals.

If the legislature had intended that the children's judges should be practicing lawyers, said the attorney general, "it would have been a simple matter to have said so. Having been silent in respect to this qualification, it seems clear that it was not intended these judges should of necessity be lawyers."

He added that in his judgment it was the intention of the legislature to place in the hands of well-intended persons interested in the welfare of youthful offenders the power to deal with cases of juvenile delinquency.

WALTER S. WARD FREED ON BAIL

But Court Refuses to Dismiss First Degree Murder Indictment Against Him

ATTACKS FOREMAN

Defense Lawyer Asserts He Influenced Jury Against Ward Out of Partiality

White Plains, July 11.—Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, who had been held in the Westchester county jail for the past 26 days on an indictment charging him with first degree murder of Clarence Peters, a former sailor, was released late today in $50,000 bail by Supreme Court Justice Seeger, although the court refused to dismiss the indictment.

Ward expressed himself as "very happy" and left at once for his New Rochelle home in company with his wife and relatives.

Mrs. Willard Curtis, Ward's mother-in-law, who was sought for weeks in New Rochelle by subpoena servers without success, sat through the hearing besides her daughter and left with Ward's party without any attempt being made to serve her.

Proceedings of the grand jury which indicted Ward were vigorously attacked by former Supreme Court Justice Isaac N. Mills, of Ward's counsel.

Charges Improper Conduct.
Mr. Mills charged that District Attorney Weeks had improperly conducted the hearing and specifically had withheld from the jury knowledge of Peter's character and reputation.

"I charge that he suppressed the facts and that this man Peters was a desperado and a thug," Judge Mills declared.

"Never since the day of the Spanish Inquisition has a greater outrage been perpetrated than this. Ward was put in the grand jury by the examination of witnesses by the enemy of the defendant."

Mr. Mills declared that even with the mass of "illegal" evidence which had been laid before the jury, that body had not had facts enough before it to warrant the finding of a first degree murder indictment. He attacked the alleged incompetent evidence, he declared, the jury had practically nothing on which to base its charges.

He then urged the court, if it declined to free Ward entirely, that it at least hold the evidence warranted nothing more than a manslaughter indictment; and that it admit Ward to bail pending a trial on that charge.

Ward, who was present in court, appeared to have suffered from his confinement in the Westchester county jail. His clothing hung loosely on his frame and his face was pale and haggard. Mrs. Ward, who has stood firmly by him since the slaying, was a court room spectator.

Mr. Mills made his presence the basis of an attack on Auckland Corder, foreman of the jury, who is alleged by the defense to have influenced the proceedings against Ward out of political spite. Corder was a candidate for the position of police commissioner in New Rochelle to which Ward was appointed.

Pointing to Ward, Mr. Mills said: "Does he look like a cold blooded murderer—a desperado?"

Then, pointing to Mrs. Ward, he continued: "Does she look like a woman, or the black heart of the foreman of the grand jury tried to show her? There she sits, meek and pure."

PYRENE EXTINGUISHERS BARRED FROM SUBWAYS

New York, July 11.—Pyrene fire extinguishers, alleged by fire and police officials to have generated fumes which overcame 150 passengers in the Lexington avenue tube of the Interborough subway last week, have been barred from further use for extinguishing fires caused by electric arcs, Frank Hedley, president of the Interborough, announced today. The recent near disaster, experts declared, was caused by fumes generated when the contents of the extinguishers came in contact with an electric arc blaze caused by a short circuit.

BABE RUTH STORY BRANDED A LIE

"Pipe Dream," Says Yankees' Business Manager; Cloutier Will Remain in Fold

New York, July 11.—Yankee officials branded as a fabrication the story published today to the effect that Babe Ruth, Aaron Ward and either Walter Hoyt or Carl Mays would be traded to the Chicago White Sox for Eddie Collins, Ames Strunk, one other White Sox player, and a big sum of money. The report reached here from Cleveland and was based on information sent by a newspaper man here with the Cleveland team.

Business Manager Ed Barrow did not wait to be questioned on the rumor. He greeted reporters at the Yankee headquarters with the question, "Did you see the pipe dream that that somebody had out in Cleveland?" Pressed further on the matter, Barrow said that it was "the best laugh of the day." He made a categorical denial.

"Trade Ruth? We aren't thinking of such a thing, and we haven't seriously considered it, as far as Chicago or any other team is concerned. Amos Strunk is not playing regularly for the White Sox. Who the other player besides Collins is I haven't any idea."

Philadelphia, July 11.—Manager Gleason of the Chicago White Sox said today he knew of no such deal as reported from Cleveland. If there has been any such deal, Gleason added, it would be announced by President Comiskey.

Chicago, July 11.—"We are not interested in any trade for Ruth," said Harry Grabner, business manager of the Chicago White Sox, today when shown the dispatch from Cleveland which said the White Sox were negotiating for the famous home-run hitter.

SKOKIE GOLF MUCH LIKE THE WEATHER

Fall of Clouds One Minute and Sparkling With Sunshine the Next

(By the Associated Press.)

Skokie Country Club, Glencoe, Ill., July 11.—Facing playing conditions which at times helped and at others hindered their work, more than 100 of the 325 entrants in the national open golf tournament today struggled through a 36-hole qualifying round which sent about three-fourths of the starters into the discard and produced golf which, figuratively, was much like the weather—full of clouds one minute and sparkling with sunshine the next.

An even 24 won their way into the finals with the same maximum score as yesterday, 152.
Walter Hagen of Detroit led the field with a score of 141; John Farrell, a New York professional, had a low round with a 68. One-fourth of the qualifiers were amateurs, with Eddie Held, a 19-year-old St. Louis player, leading them with 147 in eighth place. George Duncan, the famous English professional, took 41 on his final nine and barely qualified.

NO UNDUE EXULTATION IN PARIS OVER THE VICTORY

Paris, July 11.—Sporting circles here accept the news of Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen's victory over Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory with evidences of great satisfaction but without undue exultation.

"A triumph at tennis does not quite console us for the spectacle of the dollar at 12.50 francs and is not worth so much as a good international loan," says one writer who appears to represent the general sentiment in Paris, "but Mlle. Lenglen deserves a fine bouquet when she returns because she has wiped out a suspicion against French sport that was unjust if not discourteous."

BEHIND SCENES IN RADIO STUDIO

How Music and Other Forms of Entertainment Are Broadcast to Millions.

KEEP CHECK ON APPARATUS.

Every Precaution Taken to Keep Out Foreign Sounds—"Listening Posts" Established to See That Apparatus Works Smoothly.

New York.—There is much the same fascination in going behind the scenes of a great broadcasting station as is found behind the curtain at a theater. A general working idea of the operation of wireless electricity is almost universal in America today. Almost every night the general public has suddenly become familiar with the intricate mechanism of such apparatus. The distribution of upward of a million radio telephones has educated the public far more rapidly than could years of ordinary study. The audiences which gather daily to listen in on the programs broadcasted the country over probably aggregate over a million listeners. Almost all are familiar with the operation of the broadcasting station.

An evening spent in one of the great broadcasting stations is a rare privilege. Most of us have probably imagined the broadcasting station to be a maze of complicated apparatus with something the appearance of a factory or a laboratory. The stage from which the programs are broadcasted, to call it such, is in reality an attractive studio surprisingly barren of technical apparatus.

The Radio Studio.

The walls of the studio are hung with rich curtains, which are designed to be useful as well as ornamental. Besides lending an air of elegance to the interior, they serve to deaden the sounds which come from adjoining rooms and at the same time prevent any possible echo or vibration.

The studio contains several phonographs and the cases for records whose music is to be broadcasted. There is a grand piano for accompanying the soloists. A number of easy chairs are scattered about. The floor is, of course, thickly covered to deaden all possible sounds.

About the walls are ranged a couple of inconspicuous cabinets of a dark wood. There are also a couple of desks with switches and telephones. Suspended from the ceilings are two receivers hung from wires. These are provided with paper funnels, much the same as the old-fashioned horns of phonographs, which can be readily adjusted at any angle or height to suit the performers. Two or three attendants and the performers and a very few visitors are admitted.

A few minutes before the opening of the performance the mechanical expert directing the program—he is known technically as the "operator"—calls up the mechanical department and assures himself that all is in readiness. He now signals to an assistant to put the great set used for sending in operation. A few moments later he goes to the cabinets with their rows of switches and knobs and quickly gives the last touches to the apparatus. The hum of a generator, like that of a giant bee, is now heard throughout the studio. Every one in the room has been cautioned in advance to keep perfectly quiet; the raised hand of the operator now informs them that the broadcasting machinery is functioning.

Ingenuous Checks.

The operator now gives his directions by signs alone. At a signal an assistant winds up one of the phonographs, places a record in position and stands ready to release it. The announcer now takes up his position before one of the telephones at the desk, and, speaking clearly and distinctly, but not loudly, announces the opening of the program. It is his voice which has become so familiar to tens of thousands of people throughout the eastern states. He may be said to have a speaking acquaintance with a hundred thousand people who have never seen his face.

One number follows another on the program. The greatest care is taken to have the entertainment go forward without any delay or interruption of any kind. Several ingenious checks are used to make sure that the broadcasting apparatus is working smoothly and efficiently. There are a number of observers whose stations are known as "listening posts" scattered for miles in several directions which are constantly on the alert. If they fail to hear the program, or if it comes to them interrupted or smothered in quality, they will call up the broadcasting station between the numbers of the program and report the trouble. In this way the entire field covered by the stations is kept under observation.

Real Measure of Worth.

The whole world does not revolve around any man—only a small portion of it. When a man undertakes to make himself the center of a larger portion, he must show himself worthy. Worth today is measured by service to fellow men, not by dollars.

Making Life Livable.

Somebody may always be taking the joy out of life, yet could not easily do so if more people were engaged in putting joy into life. To make life livable we must meet and overcome every influence whose tendency is to destroy human contentment and happiness.

READJUSTING YOUR INVESTMENTS

During a period of growing demand for bonds, such as the present, it is not unusual for some issues to command prices which make others appear exceptionally attractive, by comparison.

This situation often permits bond-holders to exchange, with profit, one investment for another. Our close touch with the bond market, combined with our facilities for analyzing relative values, should prove extremely helpful to investors desirous of ascertaining whether any readjustment of their holdings can be advantageously made.

Our organization is here, above all else, to serve you—to help you secure from your invested funds a maximum of profit commensurate with safety. We shall therefore be only too glad to discuss this matter with you, and give you our best advice.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Many Mothers Left in Weakened Condition

Many, many letters similar to the following recommend the Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for bringing the mother back to normal health and strength.

It is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by a nursing mother.

Thousands of mothers who have regained their strength by taking it are its best recommendation. Very likely you know some. Why not take it yourself?

"Will Gladly Answer Questions" Olney, Ill.—"For over a year after my boy was born I was troubled with weakness of the female organs. Also my stomach would bloat up and I had heartburn, headache, and simply could not do the papers and read what your Vegetable Compound did for others, so I gave it a trial. After the first few doses I could tell a change. (Some might think this impossible, but it is true.) I took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt so fine that I neglected to take any more for about a year. This last winter I had pains again so I have been taking it to relieve them. I tell everyone I hear complaining of female troubles that it is grand. If any woman asks me questions about the medicine I will gladly tell her what I know."—Mrs. CHARLES VAUGHN, Olney, Ill.

Baltimore, Md.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for general weakness following the birth of my first child. Later on the advice of my mother I used it for a dull pain in the small of my back and for a bearing-down feeling. These pains had an effect on me to such an extent that very often I was unable to stand on my feet to do my housework, and at times I was compelled to lie down for short periods. I found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very helpful and recommend it highly."—Mrs. LORETTA B. SIMONS, 645 S. Belvidere Ave., Baltimore, Md.

"Cannot Thank You Enough" Allentown, Pa.—"After my last baby was born I lost weight and was in a very run-down condition. After taking the second bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to gain strength and flesh. In the past six months I have done all my own housework and do an extra wash besides. I do not feel at all like I used to and I cannot thank you enough for my health. My friends ask me what I am doing and I recommend your medicine."—Mrs. WM. STECKEL, 241 Elliger St., Allentown, Pa.

Debilitating Effects of Summer Heat Wiped Out by GOLDINE Tonic and Nerve, the Great Tropical Yung-Gona Remedy.

In GOLDINE is presented to the American public for the first time a formula containing extracts of the precious Yung-Gona Root, used by the Egyptians to overcome the effects of the hot climate and considered one of the most wonderful nerve tonics known to medical science. GOLDINE is the world's greatest summer tonic, keeping up bodily strength and tending to ward off heat prostration.

"My trouble began after moving in the fields two days in the heat," George Morris, Lawrence Mass., tells. "For over a year I doctored continually with no help. It felt at times as though I had a lump in my stomach and I could not move. I had to get up several times at night, could not sleep, and so could not work daytimes. Had to stop work altogether. But now I can work after taking Goldine Tonic and Nerve and am going back on my old job tomorrow morning. The lump is gone, am eating fine and sleeping great. All my improvement is due to Goldine."

This splendid registered formula also contains herbs from Northern Africa, France, Austria, Italy, Egypt, and India, besides valuable domestic herbs. If you tire easily, look haggard, are run-down and under a nervous strain, can't sleep, are irritable, get your bottle today and make a sure start toward health. You need GOLDINE Tonic and Nerve.

In the South Sea Islands, the Jungs comprise 250 islands, have an area of 7,051 square miles and population of 163,416. The Jungs were formerly idolaters, but have turned to Christianity. They are strong and finely built, attributed to using Yung-Gona contained in GOLDINE.

BRIEF EDITORIAL NOTES.

Out in the middle west the government weather bureau is considered a good adjunct to the banking business. The Federal Reserve bank in such a town, though the bureau with climatological conditions in certain sections of another state where it carries large credits through local institutions loaning largely to farmers. If the season is dry it means poor crops and therefore unsafe farmer risks. If the weather is good it can safely lend money.

To the dairymen sections of the United States it is likely to be added Alaska, where the government is trying to develop a hardy breed of cattle by crossing the shaggy Galloways with Holsteins. But pending results of the government experiments, farmers in some of the Alaska valleys, where grain and forage crops do well are using milking shorthorns, as not only fair milk producers but good beef animals.

The visit of Chief Justice Taft to England will prove of benefit to his country, if as is reported, he will devote himself during his return voyage to digesting the information which he obtained by observation abroad relative to more speed and simplicity of procedure in the courts. So long as Shakespeare's time the leisurely procedure in courts was anathema, but it is in the interval the motion picture has come to more speedy processes, the United States should be glad to learn of her. In August, by the way, Mr. Taft will present the results of his study in an article to be read before the American Bar association.

Rev. George M. Gates of Frankfort lately sent out a friendly letter to his parishioners in which he asked them to just suppose that all the churches in county and state were closed, that there were no more church services or of Sunday schools, no more church activities of any sort, and that the doors of the sacred edifices were closed to marriages, funerals, special or general services or social gatherings. Proceeding from this premise, he asks his parishioners how they would like to live in such a community or state and whether they would not be willing to give say two hours in a week so that they might continue open and the world still maintain a tolerable place to live in. It is a question which any minister might ask his parishioners and which any parishioner might without suggestion ask himself.

Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, has shown his American spirit by causing to be revoked the charter of a New York city union of bookkeepers, stenographers and accountants which has fallen into the hands of communists. It is stated that several other New York unions are under surveillance and are likely soon to be disbanded. Evidently there is little of the spirit of the Reds in the rank and file, and none of it in the official heads of the big labor organizations.

It is unfortunate, perhaps as unfortunate as some of the remarks made by Mlle. Lenglen in America at an earlier date, that Mrs. Mallory should have some of the statements attributed to her made in England. Notable among these are her complaints as to the delay in starting, and that the light was as poor for one as the other, and as for "nerves" it was the excitable Frenchwoman who should have fretted at delay rather than her more stolid competitor. Fact is that Mlle. Lenglen appeared to poor advantage as loser in the American contests, and Mrs. Mallory equally so as loser in England. Honors are easy in one respect—that both appear to have qualified as bad losers.

Hamilton Fish, Jr., in an address before the United Spanish War veterans at Newburg on Monday suggested that the United States take over the islands in the Caribbean sea which European nations own as part payment of the war debt. They are, he said, a constant source of friction and in event of war would imperil the safety of the Panama canal. The islands, which with the exception of Jamaica, are numerous rather than large, practically all belonging to England or France.

Laurens Buys Stone Crusher.
A gyrating stone crusher, lately purchased by the town of Laurens from the manufacturers in Chicago, arrived in Oneonta yesterday and in the afternoon was unloaded by Highway Commissioner Leon Gardner and a force of workmen. The machine, which is of new design, and cost $3,500, will be used by the township in its highway improvement work, the first being on the surfacing of the long stretch of highway on which the sub-base was placed last year.

Circus Elephants Roam Fields.
Seven elephants of the Hagenback-Wallace circus escaped from their cars when a circus train and another crashed near Mason City, Iowa, yesterday, an Associated Press dispatch states. Two passenger cars left the rails and doors of the circus cars were ripped open. After roaming the corn fields for an hour or so, all the elephants were rounded up. The Hagenback-Wallace shows exhibited in Oneonta on May 31.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Halt the Liberty Bell Junket.

Mayor Moore has wisely postponed action on the councilmanic resolution authorizing the sending of the Liberty Bell to the Pageant of Progress to be held in Chicago from July 23 to August 14. It should never have been passed, and the extraordinary haste in rushing it through the council is in itself a proof that it was not given proper thought or consideration. The only explanation for railroad the resolution through in record time is that the members feared some opposition on the part of the public, and wanted to settle the matter before sentiment became fully aroused.—[Philadelphia Enquirer.]

New York's Mosquito Output.

It may surprise New Yorkers to learn that the finger of reproach is being pointed at their city as the most horrible example of a free and unlimited mosquito hatchery to be found in this eastern corner of the United States, including New Jersey itself. In fact, it is by New Jersey that the accusation is made. It has actually come to this, that New Jersey, long accepted among men as the producer of more and meaner mosquitoes to the acre than any other state in the union, is demanding the abatement of the mosquito breeding nuisance in the city of New York.—[New York Herald.]

Humility and Egotism.

Humility is the very atmosphere of great souls, just as egotism is the armor of slaves. The true escape from both egotism and super-sentimentality is humility. The golden mean is a self-respect which needs no more to insist or to shrink than does a mountain of a tree.—[New York American.]

Tar-Baby Bathing and a Remedy.

Must foul bathing benches, poisoned fish and other injurious effects be accepted as a necessary consequence of using oil for fuel in ships? The proportions to which the contamination of adjacent sea waters by the dumping of oil refuse has grown and the certainty that conditions will become worse with the increase of oilburning shipping if not checked, point to the urgency of protective measures.—[New York World.]

Education That Counts.

Secretary of State Hughes rarely speaks without saying something of value and his speech before the National Education association, in Boston, on the Fourth of July, contains thoughts which may be considered with profit by all who have to do with the training and the education of the young. Mr. Hughes says that education is one of the bulwarks of the nation, and then he goes on to explain the kind of education which, in his estimation, counts. He believes in the system which insists upon the mastery of a few subjects, rather than scattering studies in a "bewildering and unsuccessful attempt at comprehensiveness."—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Prosperity's Tidal Wave.

"Prosperity is returning."
"How do you make that out?"
"I had three insurance salesmen, four life insurance salesmen, four bond salesmen, five stock salesmen and six advertising solicitors call on me today."
"Did you see them all?"
"No, indeed. I was out making calls myself."—[Judge.]

A Careful Husband.

Heck—Your wife is wonderful. I never knew a woman who can talk so fluently on a given subject.
Peck—Yes, and for that reason I take mighty good care not to give her one.—[Boston Transcript.]

Accident Insurance.

One of the first things that should be done in grooming a candidate to oppose Pinchot is to take out a large insurance policy against being strangled by lightning.—[New York Evening Post.]

Lynchings Out West.

It will take the South a long time to catch up with the lynching record of Illinois.—[Watertown Times.]

Bees vs. Ants.

The ant is as industrious as the bee, but it doesn't produce anything useful; therefore it doesn't get the credit that the bee gets.—[Albany Journal.]

Balanced Budget.

They talk about balancing the budget, but it is a sensational juggling performance even for a government to balance accounts when its debt amounts to something like $23,000,000,000.—[Troy Record.]

The Way to Efficiency.

An director of the budget Dawes has shown the way to efficiency in the conduct of public business. In undertaking to carry out his plans and put into operation the machinery that Dawes designed, his successor assumes a task no less difficult.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Save and Be a Rockefeller.

William Rockefeller's will, filed for probate, shows he left an estate estimated as high as 200 million dollars. It would take 77,000 years to accumulate that much money if you worked on a salary of $100 a week and put half of it in the bank regularly.

WILL FIGHT TONNAGE TAX

Attorney General Newton Starts Opposition to Pennsylvania Law Imposing Tax Upon Hard Coal-Mined

Attorney General Charles G. Newton yesterday took steps to test in the United States supreme court the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania law imposing a tonnage tax upon hard coal. This tax, it is claimed, will increase the cost of anthracite in all the eastern states dependent upon Pennsylvania for their supplies, and the statute authorizing its imposition has already been declared void by the Pennsylvania courts.

Attorney General Newton joined in an application to Chief Justice Moschizker of the supreme court of Pennsylvania for permission to carry the case involving the constitutionality of this act to the highest federal tribunal, and at the same time urged by telegram the attorneys general of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Delaware to cooperate in the movement to secure a final test of the statute.

Means Increase in Price.

"The people of New York state, and in fact all the eastern states, are vitally interested in the outcome of this litigation," Attorney General Newton declared today. "This tax means a substantial increase in the price of every ton of coal (anthracite) consumed in these states. I have maintained from the day of the enactment of this statute that there were grave doubts of its constitutionality, and I firmly believe that the United States supreme court should pass upon it before any attempt is made to impose this additional tax upon the consumers."

Upheld by Divided Vote.

"I am certain that the attorneys general of the several states who joined in the conference held some time ago to discuss the validity of this law will give aid in this effort to save hard coal consumers from paying large sums on interest shipments of coal. This tax directly hits the pockets of the heads of households in the eastern states. Eventually the householder will be compelled to pay. That is the consensus of the law officers of the states which discussed this new levy."

Attorney General Newton initiated the effort to secure the cooperation of eastern state law officers as chairman of a special committee named to direct an attack upon the law.

The law was upheld by the Pennsylvania supreme court by a divided vote, Chief Justice Moschizker and Judge Kephardt dissenting.

All Progressing Favorably.

The condition of Miss Eva Card, who since July 3 has been a patient at the Fox Memorial hospital, suffering from concussion of the brain, resulting from being knocked down on unpaved street by an auto driven by John Odell of Maryland, is as favorable as could be expected. Her condition apparently is slowly improving.

The same is true in the case of Miss Ruth Moulton, suffering from concussion of the brain resulting from a fall from a horse on Broad street, and also in that of Will G. Cook of Schenectady suffering from a gunshot wound through the head.

Camping on Goodyear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lane and family of 15 Ann street are camping for two weeks on Goodyear lake at Camp Idle-A-While, for the benefit of Mrs. Lane's health, who has been ill for the past three months. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barnes and family of 13 Mackley avenue. The many friends of Mrs. Lane will hope for her speedy recovery.

SPRAY POTATO VINES.

Project Workers Should Treat for Blight as Well as Bugs.

Boys and girls growing potatoes in the Junior Project work are learning the value of good seed for planting their crop. Also, many are anxious to make the most of this seed by giving it the proper care. In addition to good cultivation, the successful potato growers spray their potatoes as well. Most project workers get rid of the bugs and insects but only a small percentage are spraying for blight. Parents that know of the advantages derived are urged to encourage their children to take all precautions against loss. The past few years many excellent pieces of potatoes gave an actual loss due to blight alone. This may be controlled if Bordeaux mixture is used frequently. The insecticide may be added to the Bordeaux by using either Paris green or arsenate of lead.

The Bordeaux mixture can be prepared each time it is to be used or stock solutions may be made up of copper sulphate and lime. It is recommended that a 5-5-5 solution be used. This means 5 lbs. of copper sulphate dissolved thoroughly in one container and 5 lbs. of stone lime dissolved in another container. These added to water so as to make a 50 gallon solution will give the desired mixture. Solution of copper sulphate should be added first and time last. Spraying should be done every ten days or two weeks. Application of spray should be made just previous to rain if possible. Mixture will not wash off if time permits of same dryness after spraying. Printed leaflets giving full details may be secured from the county club agent.

State Stenographer Examination.

The State Civil Service commission announces that an open competitive examination for stenographers and typists in the state, county and village service will be held during the month of August. Appointments will be made from this list for the classified service of the state, and appointments for positions in the county and village service are also from the general list, with preference to residents of said county or village, if any are on the lists. While examinations are announced for Albany, Buffalo, New York city, Rochester and Syracuse, they may also be held at any place where ten or more competitors desire to be examined.

The usual opening salaries are from $720 to $1,500, and higher for stenographers, and from $600 to $1,200 and higher for typists. Prospective candidates can address State Civil Service commission, Albany, N. Y., for circulars and applications blanks.

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

Days of Old Recalled by Items Chipped from The Star Files.

July 12, 1902.

The Misses Minnie Nearing, Alt Doyle and Nellie Howe will give a picnic to about 50 young friends at Walling's grove Thursday night. The street railway company last night commenced running an excursion car which it will operate between West and East Ends every pleasant evening. It will afford an opportunity to many to take an outing.

The following will participate in the midsummer musical festival to be held soon: Mrs. E. R. Ford, Mrs. Arthur Ford, Miss Grace McCrary, Miss Pearl Evans, E. E. Giles, Dr. A. S. Barnes, Edwin W. Gotschell, Miss Jessica Terwilliger, Mrs. C. F. Ford, Prof. Oscar Lang, Miss Glenn Raymond and Walter E. Ford.

July 12, 1902.

H. E. Huntington has contributed $500 to the support of the Fox Memorial hospital.

The capacity of the mill of N. H. Briggs & Son is being increased for the manufacture of sash and doors. It has been decided to locate the general offices of the Oneonta, Cooperstown and Richfield Springs railroad in Cooperstown.

Sidney defeated Windsor yesterday, 12 to 7. Wallie Burke of this city pitched for Sidney, allowing but four hits and striking out eight men. He was also credited with four hits, four putouts and three assists.

Prof. C. E. Myers, government weather expert, claims that the sole cause of the great quantities of rain that have fallen in this section lately is the eruption of Mount Pelee and the many other interior disturbances.

LOCAL MENTION

—Susquehanna Division versus Pennsylvania Division at Neahwa park at 3:30 this afternoon.

—The work on the interior of the parsonage of the Elm Park church is now practically complete and Pastor Dodge and family will take possession of their new residence in a few days.

—The Oneonta Giants, refreshed by a day of rest, will tackle the formidable Norwich team at Norwich this afternoon. Oneonta defeated Norwich, 4 to 3, here on June 20 and the boys are out to make it two straight from the Chesapeake county representatives.

—E. R. Rogers, assistant engineer of the Public Service commission, will hold a hearing at the Municipal building at 1:30 p. m. on July 12, in the case of Oscar V. Dietz of Schenectady county against the Charlotte Valley Telephone company as to discontinuance of service.

—There were nine children present at the baby clinic at the Community house yesterday. This number is somewhat above the average for the past six months but in that period it is probable that over 200 children had the benefit of these excellent clinics, which have been in charge of Dr. Ray D. Champlin.

—There was no change in the local strike situation yesterday. Two or three of the men imported to replace the strikers in the shops quit work and their places were taken by men from New York. It was claimed yesterday that the night force of strikebreakers would quit as did the day force and a few did fail to report for work, but there was no general walkout. Both sides claim satisfaction with the situation.

George I. Wilber II.

George I. Wilber, president of the Wilber National bank, was taken suddenly and quite seriously ill late Monday afternoon, suffering from acute diabetes, from which he has for some years been suffering. His condition during the night was critical, but later in the day yesterday an improvement was observed and at a late hour last night it was said that his condition continued to improve, although it remains precarious.

It is thought that he overtaxed his strength during a recent week's stay in New York and that the advent of hot weather precipitated a crisis in his trouble. All his many friends in the city and county will learn with regret of his critical illness and hope for a speedy improvement.

Alterations to St. Mary's Church.

The steeple on St. Mary's church is being removed and will be replaced by a tower similar to that on the Main Street Baptist church. The timbers of the steeple were becoming badly rotted and its weight was causing a loosening of bricks in the supporting structure. It was decided to remove it before injury to passing pedestrians or damage to the church was effected.

FAVOR ZONING TWO TO ONE

Chamber of Commerce Referendum Shows Sentiment for Preparation of Zoning Ordinances—To Present Matter to Common Council.

Better than a two to one vote in favor of the preparation of zoning ordinances for the city of Oneonta was cast by members of the Chamber of Commerce in the referendum conducted by mail which closed last evening.

A total of 175 ballots were cast, 117 in favor and 57 opposed to the proposition, and one vote marked both for and against the referendum were found by the committee upon opening the secret ballots at the Chamber of Commerce offices last evening.

In the space on the ballot provided for remarks, many qualifications to the votes were made, particularly for the ballots cast against the proposition. In the latter instances, a number of members stated that they favored zoning but were opposed to preparing a professional engineer to do the work because of the expense involved. On the other hand, many voting in favor stated that they did so with the understanding that a professional engineer would be engaged.

In the explanatory matter sent with the ballot, it was stated that the question assumed that a professional engineer should be engaged to prepare zoning ordinances at an expense not to exceed between $2,000 or $2,500. A full explanation of zoning and of how Oneonta would be zoned and arguments both for and against the issue were included in this explanatory matter.

It is expected that the board of directors of the chamber will refer the results of the referendum to the Common Council for their consideration at its next meeting.

Members of the committee which supervised the conducting of the referendum and the canvassing of the ballots were A. E. Hewell, chairman; P. H. Chambers, Lynn L. Gardiner, M. G. Keenan, W. B. H. McClelland, J. F. Thompson, Arthur A. Butts, Harry C. Bard, David H. Mills and Edward Crippen.

THIEF GETS BIG ROLL.

Harry D. Wheeler of this city robbed of $480 in Springfield, Mass.

Harry D. Wheeler of this city, who on Saturday left for a fishing trip in Nova Scotia in company with Kenneth W. Goldthwaite and Dan Franklin, was robbed of $480 in the Hotel Worthy at Springfield, Mass., Saturday night, according to Monday's edition of the Springfield Republican. Mr. Wheeler left the bill fold containing the money in a pocket of his trousers which he placed on a chair when he went to bed. He discovered his loss when he paid his bill for breakfast the next morning. The bill fold was in his pocket but the $480 in bills was gone.

Mr. Wheeler reported the theft to the Springfield police but as there were no clues to the identity of the thief, the money will probably not be recovered. Mr. Franklin, who occupied the adjoining room, had placed his money under his pillow and it was untouched. The thief had probably searched his clothing as the door between the rooms was open. Mr. Wheeler had thought that he had locked his door but the lock was a peculiar one and when he turned his key to withdraw it he unlocked the door again. Mr. Wheeler wired home for more money and the party proceeded on its way.

Missionary Society Meets.

Members of the Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors for the regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. The program was in charge of Mrs. Auchenbaugh and topics were discussed by Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Seward and Mrs. F. H. Smith. There was an unusually good attendance and the audience was most appreciative of the fine program which had been prepared. A feature of the afternoon's entertainment was the report of Miss Deig, delegate to the Presbyterian Women's Missionary convention held at Mundalen, N. Y., June 21. She gave a very graphic account of the morning, afternoon and evening sessions of the convention, giving detailed summaries of the speeches at the afternoon and evening sessions. Her report was much enjoyed by the members of the local society who thus gained an accurate idea of the work of the convention.

At the business meeting plans were discussed for the picnic which will be held in place of the next monthly meeting.

BUSINESS BLOCK SOLD

Anthony Scott, Wall Street Cobbler, Purchased Brick Building at 164 Main Street—Will Move Business There After April 1, 1923.

The brick block at 164 Main street, occupied on the first floor by the LaReau shop, has been purchased by Mrs. Ella Ray Allen of Brooklyn by Anthony Scott of this city, possession being given on July 1. The sale was made through the Oneonta agency. The consideration was $20,500.

Mr. Scott, who conducts a shoe repairing shop on Wall street, will, after April 1, 1923, when the LaReau lease expires, occupy the first floor with a shoe repairing, shoe shining and hat cleaning establishment. Necessary repairs and alterations will be made at the completion of the LaReau lease. The building, which is a substantial three-story brick structure, was built by Mrs. Allen in 1887. L. H. Blend being the architect. Various business enterprises have occupied the store since its erection, but Mrs. Allen has always retained its ownership.

Mr. Scott came to Oneonta from Nineteen June five years ago. He joined the Delaware & Hudson company for two years and then entered the shoe repair business, having his place of business first in a portion of the Coy livery stable on Dietz street and later moving to his present location on Wall street when the Coy property was sold.

TO OPEN CHAUTAUQU.

"Sunshine Girl" to Create Laughs and Thrills on Opening Day.

"Cheer-up" slogans and Charlie Chaplin films faded into mere insignificance as "laugh-makers" with the coming of Ethel Hinton, "Sunshine Girl" on the opening afternoon of the Chautauqua program. You'll Redpath Chautauqua program. You'll find while the "old" laughs with you—and we might well add—"weep if you stay at home," for Miss Hinton, sometimes called the "Joy Giver," carries excess baggage in new and humorous character songs, dialect stories and impetuousness. There is a good reason for this. Her work is different. She draws her stories from real life and her dialect is so delightfully perfect that it has long been a question as to her own nationality. An afternoon with Miss Hinton is an intimate study of human nature, a glimpse into the heart of humanity.

To California she has entertained over a million men, women and children and with a phenomenal power to "get" an audience has carried them easily from smiles to tears. It was while she worked near the front line trenches during the war she earned the name "The Sunshine Girl" and it has been truthfully said "her life is a ministry of joy."

With Miss Hinton is Clifford Walker, a most versatile and nationally known entertainer. Following a successful career in England, he gave recitals in South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, India, Egypt, Canada and finally in the United States, where in 1901 he became an entertainer on the Redpath list.

Mr. Walker's unique renditions in music, song and story form a happy combination with the work of Miss Hinton and this feature program offered by these two capable artists predicts a record breaking attendance and the first afternoon of the six-day Chautauqua program.

FUEL STOCKS VERY LOW

Dealers Predict Rationing of Coal During Early Winter—Some Sizes Out of Market—No Drop in Price in Sight.

Coal stocks in the city are very low and even with immediate resumption of work at the mines rationing of coal to consumers will probably be in effect during the fall and early winter, local dealers asserted yesterday. They also predicted no drop in the price of fuel this fall if the miners resume work at the present wage scale pending arbitration of their differences, as has been suggested.

Stove and egg coal is practically out of the market and the supply in this city at the present time is negligible. Certain consumers, such as restaurants, must have this variety and dealers have been able to keep them supplied with small quantities but there is practically none in stock. The stocks of chestnut and pea coal are so low that dealers are allowing customers only a half ton at a time. The storage piles of railroad coal companies supplying this section are virtually exhausted and with no coal being mined the situation is becoming critical.

Normally at this time of the year at least one-fourth of the coal used during the winter is in the bins of consumers. To date this year practically no bins have been filled. Dealers are unable to predict when they will be able to secure shipments and are accepting orders with no promises as to delivery, simply telling their patrons that they will supply them with fuel as soon as possible and in the order in which their requests are received.

It has been suggested that the miners return to work at the present wage scale pending settlement by arbitration of the matters in dispute and it is possible that resumption of mining will be made under such an agreement. If so the price of coal will probably not drop as a reduction in price was dependent upon a cut in the miners' wages. Dealers have been predicting such a drop but with conditions as they are now they regard a cut in retail prices as improbable for some time.

The demand for fuel, with stocks in the hands of consumers so low and with fall approaching, will be so great that even if the mines should reopen at once not enough coal could be mined to meet the daily demand and rationing will probably have to be put into effect during the fall and early winter, dealers state.

A. & S. TEAM EXPECTS VICTORY.

Susquehanna and Pennsylvania Teams Clash This Afternoon.

The Susquehanna Division team, pride of local railroad men, will play the Pennsylvania Division outfit at Neahwa park this afternoon at 3:30 in the fourth game of the season between the teams. Penn has won two out of the three contests but Brodie is figuring that the coal pickers will have to travel at high speed to take today's game. The local boys have won their last four games and are playing excellent ball. It is expected that either Weingartner or Whinnie will be on the mound for the A. & S. team. On Saturday Brodie's men will cross bats with the Bainbridge nine at that village.

Boys Get in Training.

A three class field day will be held at Neahwa park July 21. Substantial prizes will be given for athletic events.

PRINCE OF WALES SLATED TO BE BEST MAN AT WEDDING

Miss Edwina Ashley, Britain's Rich. at Bride, and Her Husband-to-Be, Prince Louis Mountbatten.

By Milton Bronner.

London, July 10.—The Prince of Wales, future ruler of Great Britain, will be the best man when England's richest bride takes her marriage vow at St. Margaret's church, July 13—unless court rules forbid.

The bride is Miss Edwina Ashley, daughter of Colonel Wilfrid Ashley, member of Parliament. She's the heiress of the multimillionaire Sir Ernest Cassel, her grandfather, financial advisor to King Edward.

On her father's side she claims descent from the Indian Princess Pocahontas; on her mother's side from a line of Jewish princes who ruled Israel in Biblical days.

The bridegroom is Prince Louis Mountbatten, pal of the Prince of Wales, who acted as aide to the prince on his world tour, just ended.

There isn't much "side" or "swank" about the future princess. She's just as much of a regular girl as her sweet-heart is a regular fellow.

The other day as summer cleaning operations were in full swing in the vicar-general's register office a tall graceful young woman stepped in and asked for a license.

She explained her future husband was on the high seas and had asked her to get the document.

"What's your name, miss?" asked the matter-of-fact clerk.

"Edwina Cynthia Annette Ashley," That should have meant something in his old life, but it didn't.

"Whom do you wish to marry?"

"Lord Louis Mountbatten."

This time there was real action. "What's that?" the clerk queried.

She repeated the name.

"What's his full name?" asked the clerk, still dubious.

"Louis Francis Albert Victor Nicholas Lord Mountbatten," the girl replied.

She added he was 22. Then she made the affidavit, signed the book, paid two pounds sterling fee, got the license and carried it away just like Mary Smith or Jenny Brown.

FINED FOR CRUELTY.

Flave Conklin of Hartwick Ran Horse That Was Very Lame.

On the complaint of Mrs. William T. Hyde of Cooperstown, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Flave Conklin of Hartwick was placed under arrest by Sergeant Hopkins of the State Troopers and taken before Justice E. Berry of the town of Hartwick.

The complaint alleged that Conklin went to the home of Fred Walters in the town of Laurens and swapped horses with him, taking in exchange one that was lame in the shoulder and legs. On the return trip he was accused of having run his lame horse practically the entire distance while each step was painful to the recently acquired horse.

When arraigned before Justice Berry, Conklin pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days. The jail sentence was suspended. Conklin was informed by Justice Berry that he would not deal as leniently with him should he again be arraigned on a cruelty charge.

It is understood that Conklin was under the influence of intoxicants while he was driving the team and making the lame animal run for the distance of several miles.

DOLLARS ARE MOBILIZED AND PUT TO WORK ON FARMS

By William H. Joyce.

President, Association of Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Banks and Recently Member, Federal Farm Loan Board.

San Francisco, June 9.—Mobilizing dollars and sending them out to work on the farm!

That, in a sentence, is the job undertaken by the first chain of joint stock land banks to be organized in the United States.

The system is designed to make land settlement less difficult and bring about as rapidly as possible the best and fullest use of farm land.

With the six great western agricultural states—California, Arizona, Utah, Oregon, Washington and Idaho—linked

W. H. JOYCE cooperatively in a program of development, the business expansion and general prosperity that will result readily can be seen.

This is what has been done: Nine banks, with resources close to $600,000,000 are linked in a farm land loan chain with $16,500,000 immediately available to the farmers of these states.

While joint stock lands are no particular novelty, such a joint financial pool is something new.

What does this mean to the farmer? Briefly that:

One: He will be assisted in the settlement of new lands. Such land development promotion long since has become a national cry.

Two: He will be provided with funds for purchase of land, equip-

DEATHS.

HISTORIC SOHO DOOMED TO FALL

London's Funny Little Bohemian Quarter to Be Swept Away.

CITY IN NEED OF MORE SPACE

Many Years Ago This Section of London Was Regarded as a Very Fashionable Dwelling Quarter.—There All Races Meet.

London.—Dingy, funny, little Soho, known to all tourists and the affluent half of the American expeditionary forces, is about to pull down its faded plaid curtains, fold up its murky little shops and silently steal into the dusty pages of history—by request.

London has need of space and, cruelly, London, has no need for funny little Soho. In which case that small, historic prowling spot of temperamental bohemians, which is supposed to have derived its name from the duke of Monmouth's famous war cry, "Soho," at Sedgemoor, intends to take itself apart, brick by brick, until it is no more.

Gone will be the window of the Italian grocer, lately so gay with swirls of pale green spinach paste, like fine spun spaghetti, the deep purple of choice violet liquor, the shiny festoons of red peppers and the tiny almond cakes sprinkled with pluk sugar.

Rich Treasures in Filth.

Not again will one finger and yearn for the silky rugs from Afghanistan and Persia, the fat ivory elephants from India and the blue and gold Chinese embroideries one finds in the hidden dirty corners of Soho.

Many years ago this small section of London was regarded as a very fashionable dwelling quarter, but after a time trim maids and highly refined butlers were glimpsed no longer in Soho's haughty doorways. Buried name plates and shining brass knockers began to disappear and then, indeed, it seemed that severe respectability had deserted little Soho.

Its quaint, cobbled streets took to scrapping acquaintance and short-cutting through the alleys of sordid neighbors, meandering around its circles and getting in too late to clean up for dinner—but nobody cared. Its bright windows got dust and soot in their eyes and grew grimy from the fog, but no one took the trouble to wipe them. Its front doors grew weary of keeping up appearances and shed hot tears that blistered the paint and uncovered scratches and gashes on their neglected cheeks.

Its back doors sagged sadly on rusty and broken hinges. They creaked painfully in a final, pitiful protest when they were steadily pushed open to admit the Armenians, the Portuguese and the Greeks.

Where All Races Meet.

Today Soho is a rather badly kept haunt of bohemia. Turkish, Chinese, French and Italian cafes beckon on every side and are well patronized by those who grow weary of a too frequent English diet of boiled mutton, greens of an unfathomable origin and pasty white sauce.

Not long ago I spent an afternoon in Soho and found begging as usual and business at least on its feet. One may buy anything from a pennyworth of stewed eels in vinegar to the last word in a fall bonnet, from the rickety old barrows that line and crowd the curb on certain streets.

The restaurants in Soho are very interesting. The food is always attractively served and if the quality isn't strictly first class the price is. One might expect to, but doesn't save any large number of the elusive shillings. The most popular cafes charge piddlingly prices without a blinch or a palmtrot.

Papa, all done up in dress clothes and a gleaming—in places—celluloid shirt front, takes the order. Mamma hollers it down the back stairs to a mysterious uncle; one daughter bears it in triumph to your table, and the other obligingly offers to run out to buy your bitter because it is after hours—and D. O. R. A. prohibits the sale of liquor in restaurants at certain times each day.

But no longer will the dingy little shops call one, nor the restaurants amuse. Funny little Soho is going away.

Two Bean Pods on One Stem.

Columbus, O.—"My yard is full of them," declared Thomas J. Riley, local resident, as he displayed two bean pods on one stem. One pod was 3 1/4 inches long and the other 3 3/4 inches in length. And Riley does not claim to be a champion bean raiser.

Train of Locomotives.

As the first consignment of 50 Baldwin locomotives, of the "2-10-2" type, completed for the Southern Pacific lines, 20 of them in one long train recently traveled from the works at Philadelphia, Pa., to Comstock, Texas, giving tangible evidence, everywhere along the route, that a new era of activity is at hand. For this reason the builders called it the "Prosperity Special," but it was characterized by the interested observers as the "Wonder Train of the World," according to an illustrated article in the August Popular Mechanics magazine. It was the longest train of locomotives ever moved in a single unit, over anything like such a distance, and its journey, via East St. Louis, Ill., took over two weeks.

Roderick Lean Cutmore Mower

Hay Making Simplified With Standard Fordson Equipment

You cannot afford to lose time in the haying season. There are few sections where the weather at haying time is always ideal. That is the one time of year when speed is the essence of good farming. It is no uncommon happening for some farmers to lose several tons of hay by a delay in getting it off the ground.

This work is now speeded up by using the Fordson with the RODERICK LEAN CUTMORE MOWER. The CUTMORE is attached direct to the tractor between the front and rear wheels in the position where the driver can have perfect control over it. The power is taken from the worm gear that drives the rear wheels, so it is always even and dependable.

The CUTMORE makes hay cutting with the Fordson a one-man job. There is ample power for cutting the heaviest crops, including alfalfa, clover, vetch, velvet beans, pea hay and lespedeza.

The cutter bar may be disconnected in a few minutes, so that the tractor may be used for other work. The draw bar is always available for pulling a wagon, rake or other tool. Attached to your Fordson, the CUTMORE means greater speed and economy of handling your hay crop.

TWO ACTIONS FOR DIVORCE

heard Tuesday by Justice Kellogg in Special Term at Oneonta.

A special term of the supreme court for the trial of actions without a jury was held yesterday by Justice A. L. Kellogg in chambers in Oneonta. Only two cases were before the court, and both were actions for divorce.

The first of these was that of Arney Gray of Delancey against Margaret Gray of Andes. The original action was for annulment of marriage but it was subsequently changed by service of an amended complaint to an action for divorce on statutory grounds. The proceeding Tuesday was on a motion on the part of the defendant's attorney for counsel fees, expenses and alimony. The sum of $100 was allowed for counsel fees and $35 for subpoenaing witnesses, but the motion for alimony was denied. In the absence of A. L. O'Connor, esq. of Hobart, who was the attorney of record, Lincoln L. Kellogg esq. of Oneonta appeared for the defendant, A. G. Patterson esq. was attorney for the plaintiff.

In the case of Augusta A. Currier vs. Ralph J. Currier, an action for divorce on statutory grounds, all the evidence was taken except that of one witness. The case was continued, the attorneys being directed to complete the case without delay. Claude V. Smith esq. appeared for the plaintiff, Seybolt & Seybolt for defendants. Both parties in the case reside in Oneonta.

Justice Kellogg announces that another special term will be held on Tuesday of next week.
